Basic Setup

Mod Installation

Install and set up Everest, following the instructions here: <https://everestapi.github.io/>

Have the following 2 mods downloaded, installed, and set up PRIOR to the beginning of the tourney:

- CelesteNet - <https://gamebanana.com/mods/53695>
- Relay Commands - <https://gamebanana.com/mods/53725>

While playing BTA, you MUST have all other mods disabled (from Everest's "Enable or Disable Mods" menu) or uninstalled outright (including skin mods)

Players will only have an additional 5 minutes past their scheduled division start time to set up their mods and save files, so please be prepared beforehand. Any players not prepared after this window will be disqualified from the tournament.

If you have the ability, creating a new instance of Celeste set up on your machine, separate from your normal installation, may be nice to have.

This would allow you to keep your normal mods separate without disabling them in your primary copy.

Unfortunately this is only possible with non-drm copies of the game, such as those purchased from itch.io. If you do have a non-drm copy, you can download it like normal to a new folder and add it as an instance in Olympus.

Mod Setup

CelesteNet

Follow the instructions to link your Discord account to CelesteNet here: <https://celestenet.0x0a.de/>

Once linked, you can toggle "Connected" to "On" in your mod options in Celeste for CelesteNet. When you get a welcome message at the bottom of your screen, you should be ready to roll!

While you're in the mod options, it's recommended to set the "Show New Messages" setting to "Special" (so you only see posts relevant to your current channel) and "Player Opacity" to whatever is best for you (to minimize distractions from other players while playing, generally 0 is recommended).

After joining CelesteNet, you need to join the !BTA channel. Do this by hitting T on your keyboard and typing /join !BTA

You should also send the command /cc in order to automatically send new chat messages on the !BTA private channel.

Relay Commands

Relay command to reset time:

`set_time 0.000`

This command must be entered from the Celeste console, NOT the CelesteNet console. To access this, ensure you have debug mode enabled in Everest and press the `~/` key.

This command must be used before every IL. Failure to reset a time prior to entering the IL will result in an automatic loss, resulting in the same penalty as a round loss, either in being placed on the block or elimination from the tourney.

Save File Setup

You must start from a new file with cheat mode enabled. To enable cheat mode, you must do the following:

- Go left in prologue, to the car room
- Enter the following combination:

Please note that the directions refer to MENU controls, and that the grab button you use for this sequence cannot also be bound to the Journal key (i.e. by default LT is journal and grab, so you must use RT for the grab inputs).

Please remember to wipe your file time with relay commands after enabling cheat mode.

PC Setup

Please make sure you have a way to take screenshots of the journal screen - Run verification after every level will require a screenshot containing the full journal page. Different systems have different screenshot key combinations.

- On Windows you can use Win+Shift+S or Alt+Print Screen
- On Mac you can use Cmd+Shift+5
- On Linux it varies (Print Screen often works)

General Rules

Code of Conduct

The following actions will not be permitted, unless otherwise allowed by the special rules in a particular BTA tournament. These actions prolong the length of the tourney, delay verification of player times, and demonstrate unsportsmanlike conduct.

- Playing Pico-8 (Found in 3A)
- Grabbing Goldens
- Grabbing Strawberries or other collectibles that are not generally on your route
- Any other behavior that is deemed to intentionally delay the tourney, or be otherwise unsportsmanlike, at the discretion of the organizers.

Partaking in such actions when not instructed to will be considered an automatic round loss, potentially resulting in placement on the block or elimination from the tourney.

Continued violations of conduct will be assessed on a case-by-case basis, and final verdicts & punishments are at the discretion of the tourney organizers.

Any conduct in or outside of the game that engages in or promotes intolerance or bigotry will not be tolerated, and will result in immediate expulsion from the tourney, removal from the discord server, and disqualification from all future BTA tournaments.

Eligibility Requirements

Players must be at least 13 years of age to participate in any BTA tournaments (This is also a requirement for a Discord account).

Players must have a stable enough internet connection to maintain CelesteNet contact throughout the tourney – Frequent drops from CelesteNet may result in disqualification from the tournament.

Players are required to compete in CelesteNet for the duration of the tournament.

Players must be present in the BTA Discord server at the time of and for the duration of the tourney. All communication before, during, and after the tourney will be conducted through Discord.

Other Rules

BTA has a maximum registration capacity of 50 competitors. Players will be placed in divisions according to their skill level by a subjective assessment from the organizers. Any further registrants will be placed on a first come, first serve waitlist. Registrants on the waitlist will be notified that they are on the waitlist after they have submitted the form.

The timeline for pre-event information will go as follows:

Event	Time before BTA event
Registration Opens / Special Rules Announced	6 Weeks
Registration Closes	2 Weeks, 1 Day
Division Schedule & Placements	2 Weeks

Gameplay

Time Restraints

Each division's length will be calculated by taking 15 minutes times the number of competitors (If there are 10 players in a division, then the division will be 2 hours and 30 minutes long).

If the allotted time is met, every remaining player will be placed in Farewell with their respective Strawberry points converted into additional time.

The Initial Round

Playing the Round

All players start from a new save file, per the setup instructions. After clearing file time, they get ready to enter 1A (Forsaken City A-Side).

A BTA Host will prompt all players to respond in CelesteNet chat whether they are ready to begin. After all players are ready, a BTA Host will begin a countdown in CelesteNet chat - "3", "2", "1", "go" in separate messages. When a player sees "go", they enter the level and begin running.

Once all players have reached the end, the fastest player on that level is allowed to choose the level for the first competitive round of play.

Run Verification

After all players have completed their IL run, they will post a screenshot of their journal page in the discord. The file time displayed is considered the final time for that runner, to account for discrepancies in CelesteNet delay and entry time. These verification rules also apply for every competitive round.

The Competitive Rounds

Level Selection

Levels must be chosen from Chapters 1-8, A, B, or C sides. Farewell is off limits until the final round.

A player may not choose a level that has already been played. When all levels have been played, the tournament enters Sudden Death, the block is eliminated, and no redemptions are possible. In Sudden Death, levels are chosen by the person in second-to-last place, and they can select from any level, except those already played in Sudden Death.

Round Loop

All players play the round in the same manner as the initial round - Resetting file time, responding 'ready' to the organizer, waiting for the countdown - but on the level that was chosen.

Play continues in repeated competitive rounds until there are two players remaining, or the round timer hits 0. When the round timer completes, the current round will be played to completion.

Rewards & Punishments

The player with the slowest time in a competitive round will be placed 'On the Block'. The player on the block has the opportunity to choose the next level played.

The player on the block must come in 1st place in a competitive round to redeem themselves and continue in the tournament, otherwise they will be eliminated. Players are limited to 3 redemptions - After all redemptions are spent, if that player loses again, they will be eliminated from the tournament instead of placed on the block. The player in second-to-last place will be placed on the block instead.

If the player on the block also comes in last place, the player in second-to-last place will be placed on the block.

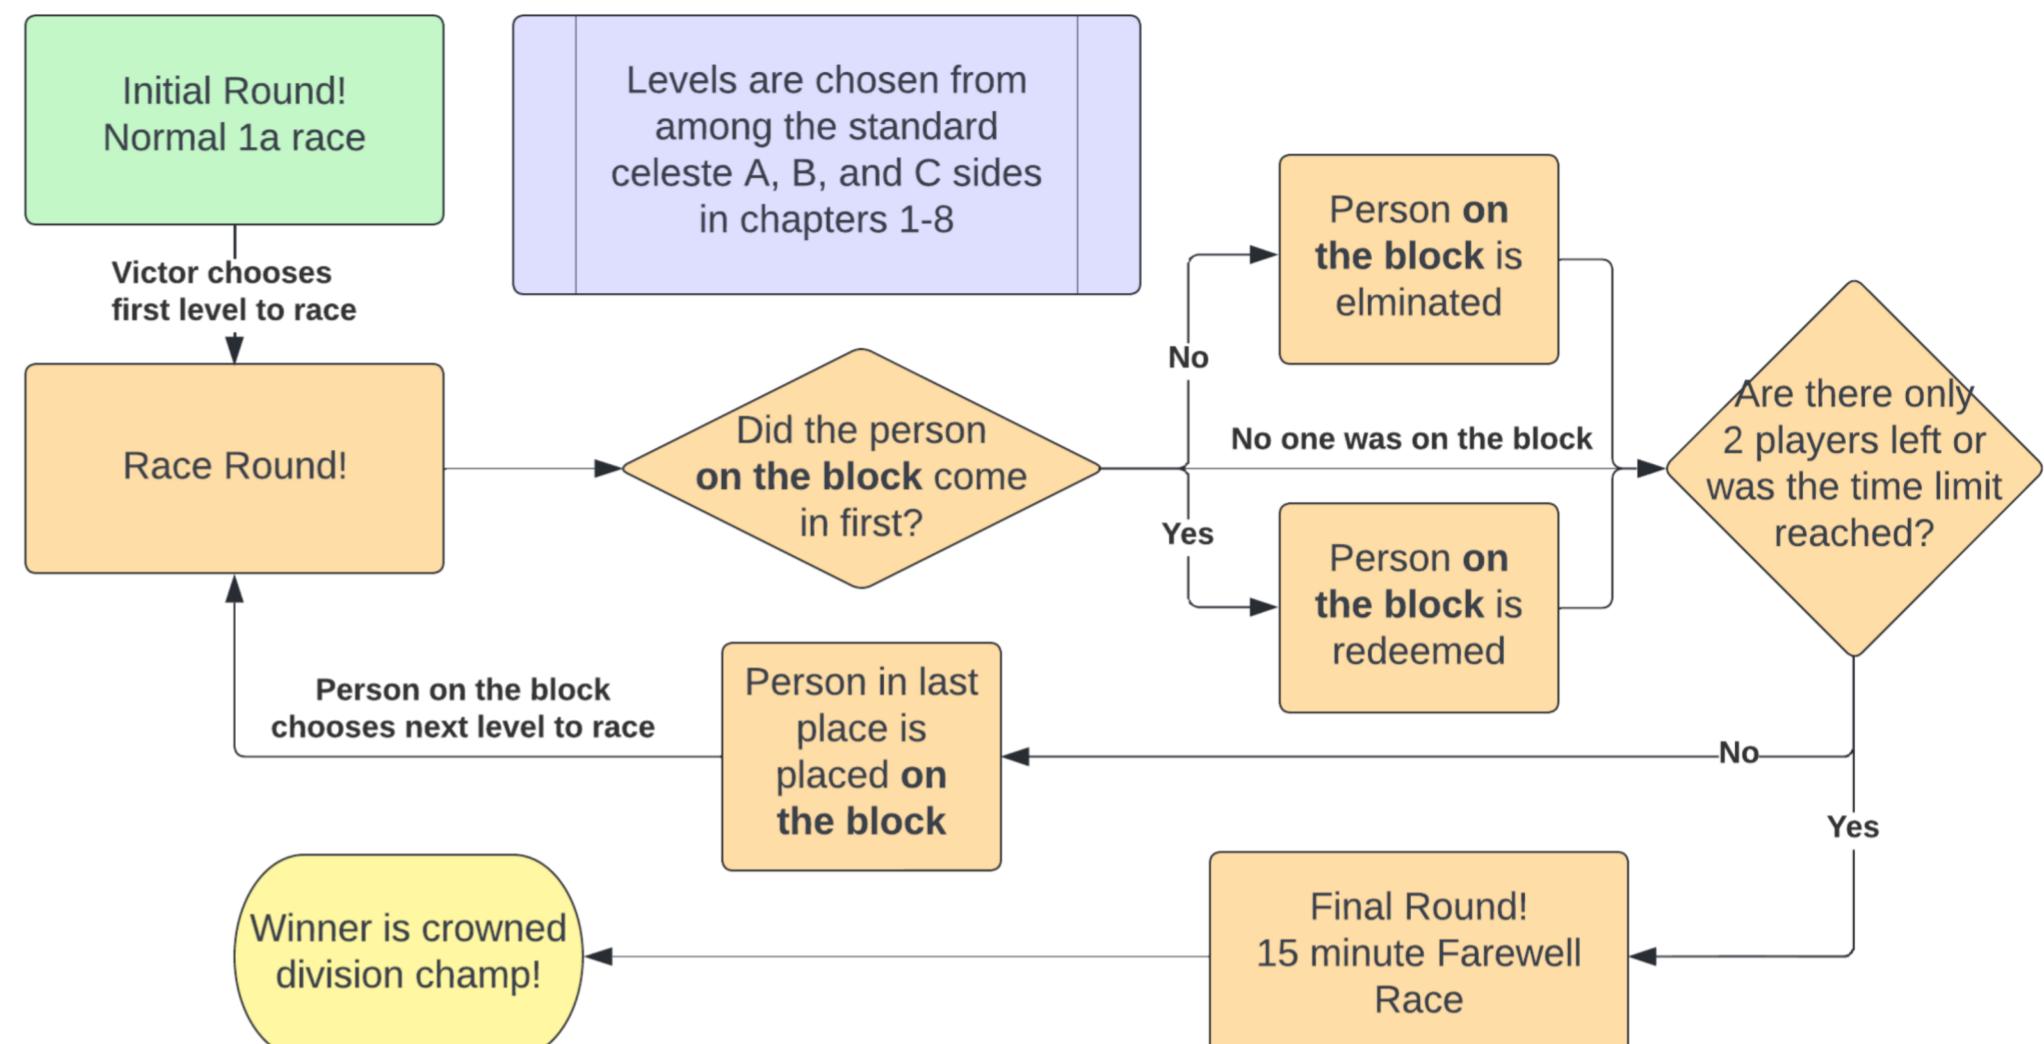

Every competitive round won (1st place) will give the winning player a Strawberry point, unless that player was on the block.

Opportunities & Exchanges

At the beginning of each competitive round, before level play begins, the player on the block has the ability to take advantage of a special opportunity and/or strawberry exchanges.

Strawberry Point Exchange:

- You may exchange a strawberry point to lower the threshold for redemption by 1 (Instead of needing to come in 1st place for redemption, you may come in either 1st or 2nd place).
- You may only exchange as many strawberry points as the total number of players which are left in a round minus 3, up to a maximum of 3 per round. (If there are only 3 players left in the round, this means you are not allowed to use strawberry points for redemption, and you can never lower the threshold for redemption below 4th place).

- Any remaining strawberry points owned by a player going into Farewell will grant 10 additional seconds to complete the level.

Special Opportunities:

- Every BTA has a set of special opportunities available to players on the block that modify the rules beyond simple completion of a level.
- These special rules will be announced at the time of registration opening.
- Each player is only allowed a single special opportunity redemption per division they compete in.

The Final Round

Players must enable file time display in-game for the final round.

All players prepare to enter Farewell. File time is reset. All players start in the same manner as the other rounds, and whoever gets the farthest in the level within the 15 minute limit is crowned the division champion.

Verification for the final round is performed by players pausing at the end of their allotted time and taking a screenshot of their entire screen. Players have 5 seconds to take this screenshot (standard timing without bonuses has a cutoff at 15:05). For every whole or fraction of a second beyond their allotted time that the timer shows, 1 room is deducted from their final distance traveled. I.e. If a player takes a screenshot at 15:06.780, 2 rooms will be deducted.

All players in the final round gain an additional 10 seconds for every Strawberry point they still have when entering the final round, so if a player has 2 Strawberry points remaining on the completion of the competitive rounds, they will have 15:20 in Farewell.

Division Champions are given the opportunity to compete in the next division up, should they choose to.

Edge Cases

From time to time, an edge case not handled by these rules may pop up. It is generally up to the discretion of the BTA organizers to handle these cases as best as they see fit, but there are some specific cases listed here to provide a guideline.

Frame Ties

Frame ties will be resolved by a prologue race

The affected players will run prologue just as they would a normal round, and their result will be used as the tiebreaker.

This will be used in the event of both frame ties for victory and frame ties for loss.

Multiple Disqualifications or Automatic Losses

This will be treated as a frame tie, and settled as above.

Crashes

In the event of a crash, you're unfortunately SOL (Automatic round loss). Because there is no way for us to distinguish an accidental crash and an intentional alt-f4, if we give leniency here, a player could conceivably alt-f4 on a significant time-loss and restart without punishment.

In the event of frequent crashes, the organizers may, at their discretion, disqualify you from the tournament.
